

The Edmund Pellegrino Fellowship

Application Deadline June 1, 2010

We are pleased to announce a unique opportunity to study bioethics with Dr. Edmund Pellegrino at the Georgetown University Center for Clinical Bioethics. A Pellegrino Fellow will be named annually for a one-month residential fellowship.

The Fellowship will include:

- A mentored experience with Dr. Pellegrino
- A stipend ($5000 US) for travel, living, and scholarly expenses.

Eligible Applicants:

- Health Care Professionals
- Students in doctoral or post-doctoral health care programs

Selection Criteria:

- Significance of research/scholarly project
- Compatibility of project with Dr. Pellegrino's scholarly interests
- Potential of the mentored fellowship to promote career development
- Preference given to studies addressing fundamental ethical issues

Application Documents:

- Full curriculum vitae
- Budget for the $5,000 award
- Summary of research/scholarly project
- Letter of support from applicant's institution
- Letter of recommendation from faculty member

Applications may be faxed (202-687-8955) or mailed to:

Carol Taylor, RN, PhD
Director, Center for Clinical Bioethics
Georgetown University
Box 571409
Washington, DC 20057-1409

Please visit the Center's website at <http://clinicalbioethics.georgetown.edu>

